LABOR AND FARMERS

H. W. WOOD PUTS POSITION TERSELY AT MEDICINE HAT

Speaking at Medicine Hat on Friday, when the U.F.A. placed Robert Gardner, farmer, of Excel, in the field as their candidate for the federal riding of Medicine Hat, rendered vacant by the death of A. L. Sifton, H. W. Wood had this to say:

"Labor and farmers cannot organize together, and it is no fault of either group that they cannot. As soon as we leave the rock bottom of economic group organization disintegration will set in. I am talking as sincerely to labor as to the farmers, or any other group when I say, don't compromise; don't dissipate your strength in order to win a few votes. I am just as anxious as anyone that we should carry the election, but I had a thousand times rather that we should not do so than that we should win at the expense of our organization. We are not ashamed of what we have done; we have put all our cards on the table, and if you believe it will serve your interests it is your duty to support it."

Most thinking people will agree with Mr. Wood in this matter. It would be a problem to unite farmer and labor, their interests being entirely opposite—producer and consumer.

Morningside

Miss Bessie Skinner, of Lacombe spent a few days visiting friends in Morningside.

Miss Jessie Redig, a former Morningside teacher, who has been attending the O.S.A. spent part of the Easter vacation with friends in Morningside. She leaves next week for the Peace River country where she will continue in the teaching profession.

Miss Lawrence, who has been teaching school near Viking, visited with her sister, Mrs. Robert Kideck, recently. She left early Tuesday morning to attend the teachers' convention at Edmonton.

Miss Atzinger, teacher of Morningside school, and Gordon Sutherland, of the Nebraska district, are attending the convention this week. Charles and Royal Murdoch returned home on Friday. They have been attending the O.S.A. during the winter months. We are proud to say both graduated Charles carrying off the second year scholarship.

Will Grant, of Varisty, and Charles Heeling, of Alberta College spent their holidays at their respective homes.

Professor Mosses with his mistresses put on a good show in the Pleasant Hill school on Monday evening. It will be remembered that they visited here last year, and since that time have been travelling in the large cities of Europe, Africa and Asia. It is needless to say they have greatly improved by their trip through the Orient. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the programme. The rest of the night was spent in dancing. Proceeds amounted to about seventy dollars, which were given to the U.F.A. of the district.

Miss Alberta Patterson spent several days in Lacombe last week visiting friends.

Masonic Entertainment

Wednesday evening, March 24th, Britannia Lodge, A.F. & A.M., held an "At Home." The arranging of the entertainment was in the hands of a capable committee, and a unique function resulted. Not only programme, but instead, "intelligent gambling," in which the ladies took a leading part, many losing thousands in their rash plunges after the fifty lure. The gathering took place in the town hall, and supper was served toward midnight in the Road Block Long tables, laden with the choicest delicacies, was served by Mrs. J. Young and a capable staff of waiters. It was a supper, pronounced by one and all to have been about the best of its kind ever purveyed in Ponoka.

Supper over, the company returned to the town hall where dancing was enjoyed for several hours.

As has been said, the gathering was unique, and an effort should be made to make it an annual affair. Something over 100 men, women and friends were in attendance.

THE LATE

RAYMOND H. ALBRECHT

The Herald has to chronicle the death of an old Ponoka boy, in the person of Raymond H. Albrecht, which took place at Hazelton, B.C. on March the 7th.

Deceased was born in Lancaster Co., Nebraska, on April 25, 1850, and came to Canada with his parents in 1907. After living in Ponoka for seven years, they moved to Edmonton. He joined the army in May, 1916, and spent a year in England, being honorably discharged at the end of the war, when he settled at Terrace, B.C. There he contracted typhoid fever, and for two months was in the Hazelton hospital, where he received the best of care, but human skill and care could not save his life, and he passed away on above date.

The body was brought to Edmonton, the funeral taking place on the 17th under semi-military auspices, and was laid to rest in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Many and beautiful were the flowers covering the casket, given by relatives and friends.

Professor Ottewell Lectures

A very interesting and able lecture was given in the Union church Monday evening by Professor Ottewell, of the University Extension Department on the subject, "The Way of Education."

After a very vivid review of the conditions facing the world as a result of the war, Mr. Ottewell stated that the vital and pressing necessity of education arose as a result of these conditions. Apart from an educated citizenry, the nations would never be able to recover themselves either socially or economically. By a comparative study of the different classes of workers the lecturer showed that the educated and highly skilled worker was able to earn more than four and a half times as much as the unskilled and illiterate worker, and his earning power continued for a far greater length of time. The earning power was an evidence of value to the community. The uneducated being a handicap upon prosperity.

The lecture was delivered in that humorous and conversational style for which Mr. Ottewell is so well known. There was a good attendance.

BACHELORS' BARBECUE

The uniqueness and diversion the barbecue given by the Brewer Bros. at the home of W. Brewer on March 14, surpassed anything ever held in this part of the community.

Supper was served at eight, and again at one, the time between and after until the "was sun" hours. It was employed in various games, juggling, stunts and high class music. The diversity consisted in the fact that the host was a married man whose good wife is away for the winter, consequently the beneficiaries as well as some of the other boys were in evidence.

The music was furnished by the Beach boys, W. Beach and B. Barton, the unanimous decision being that the community holds a badly good bunch of well behaved bachelors, and the hope of those who were present is that should another of the weekly flock of P. Beach stray from its fold it will also be so homely as not to become house-lick, and the owner will follow the precedent already established.

CHASE OF A GRIZZLY BEAR—LOVE PHILTRES.

By O.G.R. MABES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

To follow up this bear's history, it was a bona fide grizzly all right. It had wandered in from the plains and was killed in a dramatic way shortly afterwards by an Indian named Schmi who was paddling in Swan Lake with a young wife, and had been chasing a loon, so had his fine old lock gun loaded with ball. The day was very hot and the Indian's wife was thirty. Close to them and a few yards in from shore was a beautiful spring of ice cold water which formed a deep pool. Taking the gun and a hirsch rogan from the water, they made for the shore, and as the Indian stepped down to the vessel he noted a reflection of a bear in the water, and looking up saw him standing on his hind legs just across the pool. The Indian fired and the bullet went right through his heart. Mr. Grizzly tumbled in the water, and he was such a size that he had to come for help to the post to get him out. I traded the skin, which was covered with scars, and being out of season was only fit for coat coverings. It was the largest I had ever seen, and I secured his claws and sent them east to my father.

To return to Ba're, we boiled our kettle and had a good dinner on the site of the bear spoor. I did not look at me curiously at times and mutter, "We must be a little mad." "No Ba're," but he said, "I was Irish, and we let it go at that." Late in the evening we reached our canoe and an hour's paddle took us to Ba're's cabin, and his wife (a very superior woman) kindly rigged me out in some dry clothes.

Next morning I tied up my rifle and the wind being fair, sailed down my trail was an oddity, a steamed sack split down the centre with a light yard up and down, and was enough for my small and cranky craft in a wind.

On reaching the post I found a number of women and men feasting in the kitchen. This was strictly against the rules of the company, so I turned them out and found on Murdoch, saying, "I don't know you look after them in my absence?" His excuse was a queer one for these days. O-gue-wes, an Indian widow by no means a fastidious person, bewitched him, and whatever she told him to do, that he had to do. I swore at his folly, told him that I was a man and next time the lady called to try her games, kick her off the premises. He said he would try, in a doubtful sort of tone, but the next day the same thing occurred, and I decided to send him to headquarters at Fort Ellis for his own good as well as the company's. So, said Murdoch.

Love Philtres.

I had a handsome moose skin jacket trimmed with otter fur, long fingered, and in fact the very latest thing in savagery. That was getting solid and I determined to wear it, and re-smoked, and thoroughly made over. Giving it to an old woman (named Mrs. Brass) who did my washing, which, and all the other making and mending, she took it carefully to pieces, and in doing so made a discovery. Sewed firmly in the facing of the coat was a small tin packet of a silver grey powder, and this she brought to me with a very shocked face, exclaiming, "Look, Ogemates, what I found in your coat," and shaking her head said, "Some bad girl tried to witch you and make you love her." I laughed and said, "Well, she did not succeed, as I am quite fancy free at present and have no intention of being so." There was no sequel to this love philtre, nor did I ever discover who placed the powder in the coat.

Attempt to Poison.

There was a much more serious attempt made on a worthy man's life in the spring at this post. It was just about sugar time and the natives were taking sugar from the trees and occasionally bringing me in a little sugar or syrup. We had a large sort shed here, and it was customary to build at least two York boats yearly. On the last ice arrived Mr. Angus McLeod from Manitoba House, a well-to-do boat builder. He was a very fine fellow, married, with a nice little family, whom he had left at home. I did not wish to put Angus in the ordinary men's quarters, and had quarters fitted up for him in a small building just outside the gates of the post, where he was quite comfortable, and he at once got busy at the boats.

Some little time elapsed, and in one of my daily visits to the boat-house, I found Angus in low spirits, and on questioning him, I found he was being bothered by an Indian woman of middle age, and this he did not like. On several occasions he had been and would evidently have liked him to pay attention. He told her to go, and that she did not belong there, but she would not leave him, and he was very angry over it. I chided him up and finally had him laughing over the incident. A day or two later we were walking down to the boat-house together when a little Indian girl approached him and handed him a small piece of maple sugar and then ran off. Angus turned the sugar over and then handed it to me, saying, "It does not look very tempting, but just then a starved looking Indian, who had passed us, and I whistled and chuckled him to come over. He said, 'I have never stopped to taste it, but it is lowered in a gulf and ran on towards the boat-house. Next morning Angus called at my office with a very grave face and asked me to accompany him. We walked towards the boat-house, and on the other side of it, just in the place where our friend had been laying dead. Evidently the sugar must have contained a violent poison to have had such a result."

Angus was quite upset. He said he knew that sugar would be his life and wanted me to send him home at once, with all the baggage and gear. This, of course, was out of the question, and I finally decided to take him in my quarters and have him share my next (though against rule), but it was most vital that the boats be ready for the trip to York on the 15th.

On searching for the woman who had made overtures to him, she could not be found, having left hurriedly, without saying a word. I am sure she was making and mending, she took it carefully to pieces, and in doing so made a discovery. Sewed firmly in the facing of the coat was a small tin

Wood River

Successful Entertainment

In spite of the sudden unfavorable change of the weather, a great crowd assembled from town and country at Wood River Hall on Good Friday evening to attend a concert given by the Male Voice Choir, under the conducting of John Ross Jones.

The pieces sung by the choir were—The Sailors Chorus, Father Heroes, Old Folks at Home and Soldiers Farewell.

The renderings of these renowned pieces, The Comrades Song of Hope, and The Crusaders, by the choir, were received with loud applause, and a part of the former had to be repeated.

Some of these are very difficult, and have required much practice to give them a decent interpretation. It speaks well for the taste of the audience that they appreciated the above-named classical pieces.

The choir was taken by Geo. E. Clarke, of Ponoka, and he performed his duties in a most efficient and pleasant manner. He is evidently torn to the job. Besides acting as chairman, he contributed several items to the programme in his own inimitable and humorous style.

Dr. Campbell delivered an interesting and inspiring address on the development of social life in country settlements, with special emphasis on the part the community hall plays in such development. It would naturally benefit any community to take the doctor's speech seriously to heart, and act accordingly.

After Gordon's speech was finished, from start to finish, and was much appreciated by the audience. His ly hits at the Welsh who continue in true sportsmanlike fashion, who said that a Scot had no sense of humor?

Some fine solos were given during the evening. It is regretted that space will not permit a complete list of the soloists, etc., of the evening. Sufficient to say that they were all much appreciated. Particular mention should, however, be made of the effort made by Miss Thomson of the Hospital to come out to assist. Her rendering of The Bells of St. Mary's was charming and earned a well merited encore.

Judging by the applause, the general appearance of the audience, and the remarks heard afterwards, the concert was a great success.

Mrs. Lewis Williams gave much satisfaction in the way she accompanied the soloists of the evening.

The committee wish to tender their thanks to all who took part, to all who assisted in the executive work, to the pupils of Music school and others who sold tickets; to the Peterson Brothers for their kindness in lending lumber; and, finally, to the ladies for the fine way they worked together in preparing the supper.

A large number stayed to dinner which followed.

The present approximate estimate of the gross proceeds amounts to over $150.

R. A. RICHARDS,
Secretary to Committee.

REPORT

Services for April 2nd.—Concord Sunday school at 2 p.m., church service at 3 p.m., subject, "The World for Christ," with an interesting talk on Africa. Special singing. Hearty service. The homelike church extends a special invitation to you to these services.

Glen Fallow & Vicinity

Our weather of late reminds us that Old Jack Frost is on the job yet with snow and a south-east wind that makes the inhabitants wish for warmer weather.

Matt. Kaubala has been quite sick with the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tobler has a new arrival at their home; a son arrived on the 23rd of February.

Haring Bros. are busy sawing for themselves and neighbors. They charge $10 per 1000 ft. of lumber.

Old Nemio has commenced to move his buildings over east on the C.P.R. land he purchased.

Mr. Caton is making preparations to move on the N.E. of 26-44-27 where he can get on the range and milk cows.

Mrs. Fred Tobler is enjoying a visit with her father and mother from near Edmonton.

The young folks have been busy taking in the numerous dances, box socials, chicken supper, etc.

C. S. Chapin is hard at work hauling and loading out hay. Charlie says it is cheap, but $12 per ton is better than nothing.

The Outerland girls, who have picked up in Edmonton, are entertaining the home folks.
